

Interesting residual plots

We know one important part of model assessment is looking at residual plots.

H. G. Wells warned, "Satan delights equally in statistics and in quoting scripture."

Therefore, I conclude that the importance of being a statistician is to interpret the result we get. Statistics is essential and the numbers talk.

Plot 1: A plot of the residuals against the predicted values.

